Membership Code of Ethics

As a member of the Windsor Essex Home Builders' Association (WEHBA), you must adhere to the following Code of Ethics that are in place:

Members shall deal justly with their employees, subcontractors, and suppliers of goods and services.

Members shall deal honestly and fairly with their customers, and stand behind the quality of their work and service commitments.

Members shall plan their projects to conform to the principles of good community planning and support for the environment.

Members shall exchange information and experience, and encourage research on materials, technical advancements and building techniques in order to provide the best value for their customers.

Members shall avoid all conduct or practice detrimental to the house building industry, to the WEHBA, to the good name or reputation of any of its members, or to customers.

Members shall commit to continuing learning through human resource policies and practices, including employment practices which treat employees as assets.

Members shall actively promote health and safety principles.

Members shall treat their competitors, including their property and ideas, with respect.

I/We certify that I/We agree to abide by the rules and regulations as stipulated in the WEHBA's Bylaws and Code of Ethics.

I/We certify further that none of the principals of this company have ever been refused registration in or had registration revoked by and have never been refused membership in, refused renewal of membership or had membership revoked by the WEHBA.

I/We understand the code of ethics and state that all information contained in the membership application is accurate and true and authorize the WEHBA to undertake investigative procedures.

I/We understand that upon approval by the Board of Directors, this will entitle the applicant company to full membership benefits.

It is the mandate of the WEHBA to provide information, promote membership and foster communication, e.g., catalogues of members, Internet information, new products and services etc. The member hereby consents to the use of the information in this application for such purposes (banking and credit card information excepted) by the WEHBA.

All of the responsibilities listed above are freely and solemnly assumed as they form part of an obligation of the WEHBA.
